Travis James Armstrong

AUG 9, 1968 - JUL 16, 2016

T J. Armstrong crossed over sweetly and gently on July 16th, 2016.
• Born in Tawas, Michigan, August 9th, 1968, he left on this planet his son, Waylon; brother, Chad; mother Georgian Machulis; stepfather, Cliff Thael; aunts; uncles; cousins; and many eclectic and loving friends. He leaves for all of us his motto, "go forward, but not strait."

TJ came to St George Island with my family and I, to stay for the week and we had a blast. We were young and just living it up at the beach. We took off to explore the island and ran across Harry A's tavern. We walked in and to our surprise my Mom was there, having frozen daiquiris. She saw us and called us over to keep us from getting kicked out. We sat down and had the greatest time on the island that day. Every round of daiquiris poured we got one. It was only 2 split between us but we were light weights. We laughed the day away, talking about the old farts around us, and then went float surfing with a buzz and scraped our faces on the bottom in our stupor of rum daiquiris. It was a story we shared until the end. I love you TJ and you will live in me and my memories until I die. To the journey my friend.Van Ausburn
