My Sweet Bob in better days. And the day we put him in the Hospital. My heart is broken. The Love of my life, my soul mate has been taken from me. I know I will see him again in God's Kingdom. Rest in Peace my Love. I am thankful that you are in no more pain and that you will be reunited with your parents and you will finally meet my Mother.

Mitchell Colligan lit a candle in honor of Robert.

Mary..I feel how weak and fruitless it must be for any words of ours which should attempt to beguile you from grief of a loss so overwhelming. I pray that our Heavenly Father will make the anguish less intense of your bereavement." I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live."With deepest sympathy,Mitch and Dotte

Thank you Mitch. I really appreciate your kind words. I am just sorry that all of you didn't get the chance to see what a Wonderful and God loving man Bob became. Though we never met I still consider you all family.

All glory is fleeting.

Hypocrites is double-tongued, he says one thing here and another thing there. You of all people should close your mouth and hide. Shameful the way you treated your parents and as for Bob- you never stood by his side when he needed you. Greed and arrogance abound is what is running through your soul. Good luck little brother when you face your Lord.

Mitchell Colligan May 24 at 6:08 PM

Your brother died and you owed him the respect of restraint. I feel this way about all deaths.

Mary,Thank you so much for sharing the photos of my brother, I truly appreciate it. I don't have anyone's number, including Dakota's.Stay strong, Jesus will call on you. You must have more things he wants you to do before you leave this place.My email is craigcolligan@live.com, please feel free to reach out.There is no more family, most of the brothers and sisters hate each other, over petty things. So you hoping, to meet Bob's family will not occur.A good example of hate is above- I post of picture of being gutted in a hospital bed after having a widowmaker heart attack with a 3% survival rate, and a big mouth niece scolds me- by announcing "that is not what you are suppose to post on a tribute wall". No empathy, whatsoever. I forgive her since I know her mother (I see you Colleen hiding in the window) is behind her.I love and loved them all, but for some reason we are not meant to be a family. We will all meet in heaven in a new loving ways, with our incorruptible bodies, and this I look forward to.You spoke kind words above and that was nice, my parents told me that you and Bob visited them in palm beach. They liked you.My condolences, Me and I know Bob is/ was grateful you were with him until the end. It would not be good to die alone.Thank you for being there for him, best wishes stay strong.Craig

Dear Brother, Many years have past since we seen each other, I no longer know you. My memories are mixed between our good times and our not so good times. However, right this very moment I remember some events we shared that brings joy to the love you had for your family. The protector, no one tread on your brothers or your precious little sisters, you would die for us when we were young. Those were the days. We all fall off the straight and narrow path during our short time on Earth, which unfortunately, this occurred, which placed a wedge throughout the past few decades of sharing our lives and families. Too late for any sorrows, time is gone and you've past on. I posted my passing for you to see as well. I died first :) We were all so competitive. However, Jesus wanted me to stay, as you see they saved me, complete miracle. Three arteries feeding my heart completely blocked. I can only hope, as I have prayed for all my family, you accepted Jesus Christ as your savior. Until I meet you again in our Father's house, Please wish our Mother and, hoping he made it, our Father as well. Very soon we will all be together again, in a much different loving ways, can't wait for that journey! You will meet my family and they can meet you, they've heard so much about you. I love you and have missed you all these years. God speed my brother. With love, Craig, Stephanie, Shiloh, Mariah, Jessica, Jeff and Delilah

Very sentimental and sweet picture Uncle Mitch... This is what you are supposed to put on a tribute wall.

My name is Kevin Tate! Unfortunately I have nothing nice to say about the man you called family! Me and my brother and sister were also his family at one point! Thank God that is over! I have wrestle my whole life to recover from him! My family is completely broken because of him! And all I can really say is, Thank you Bob! If it hadn't been for you I would have never become the man I am today! I forgave you for what you did to me but I still struggle to forgive you for what you did to my sister! I hope that you really did find God and that you repeated for your sins! And to his family... I remember all of you fondly. You guys were are break from his insanity when you came around or we would visit you guys! I understand that you may not believe that Robert did what he was found guilty of in a court of law. I lived it! Believe whatever you wish if it will help you sleep at night. Some of you know!!! Just a little info on me for you guys.. I became a extremely violent person and hurt many people in my judgement to recover. But I did! After almost 30 years in prison and most of my childhood locked up to, I am finally a free man! I man that is truly morally sound! It was not easy to do but I am now grateful for my experience because I have been given my calling. For which I am uniquely design for now. I of course have work to do still. I don't claim to be a great man but I can be for the purpose of serving God will. In closing I wish Robert and his family the best. I hope all of you can forgive each other and move on. It only matters now because it can help others grow. I know you guys probably don't understand what I just said but one day you will! God bless!!

He spoke about you often. I feel like I know you all as if we grew up together. In the past few years he has tried to reach out but did not get any response. I know Bob is in Heaven looking down on all of us. My heart is broken to the point I don't want to go on but I know that Bob is with me and always will be. I would love to speak to any one of you all. Rick has my number. Please share it with any one who would like it.
