My very dear best friend Eudora when the Lord put these two disciples together was the best friendship I've had. She was my big sister in the ministry. Whenever we talked in person and on the phone the Holy Spirit was felt in our conversation. I remember our first time together in her home on my lunch hour I visited her. When I walked in the door the television was on but the Bible was open in her lap. We both ignored the TV our discussion was about the Lord. I went back to work filled more with the Holy Spirit. I was singing and working. Last year she called me saying the doctors said she was dying approximately in an certain time. She let him know she wasn't going anywhere until the Lord was ready. So I say to you my friend our Father to you to sleep in His time. Sleep on in the arms of our Father. Blessings to all of you my family. 🙏 Are with you.

My sister and friend Eudora will live on in my heart. She was very intentional in how she loved people. One who watched over and out for people's soul. She loved beyond faults and shortcoming, putting herself in the humble seat. She laughed as hard as she cried, and we did much of that together just on my stuff (lol). She loved and stood up for family first. A General to gaurd them. A classy woman with beautiful hopes and dreams held deep within her heart. She can rest and rejoice now. My heart aches still in missing her and rejoices at the same time. God bless family and other friends who loved her too. BUT nothing tops our laughter and friendship for sure. I will miss you until... Joann (Sumayya Fire) Coleman.
