Cherrie Clark lit a candle in honor of Jackie.

I am so sorry. I just can't believe how fast it took her. We were thick as thieves for a hot minute in middle school. She used to come to my house when we lived by FSU. We used to go to the pool there on campus. I'll never forget we were walking on the sidewalk at the parking lot and she wasn't looking where she was going. She ran right into a parking meter. We died laughing. I'm so sad for her family. I'm praying for you all.

Dang. That's crazy. She was banging my friends husband a few years ago.

I'm so sorry you were taken so soon. I have so many great childhood memories with you and will always treasure our times together. I wish we had reconnected later in life but life is so crazy and unpredictable. Love and miss you girl. Rest in peace 🕊️
