Martha Booker posted:

I remember when I was just a young girl, I admired Linda for her beauty and her grace. When she and Glenn were to be married, back then the gifts came to her house. She and Aunt Doris displayed them all in the livingroom! Her laugh was contagious. We know she is rejoicing with our Lord. Love, Martha Jo Doyle Booker

My mother was introduced to Mrs. Sellars when we moved to Alabama in time for both of the youngest boys from both families to start first grade. This led to a close friendship between the mothers and the sons. Our home was filled with her art, and our hearts with her love. My condolences to Guy, Lew, and the families.

Linda and I grew up attending the same church in Orlando, Florida. Our mothers were great friends. Linda was beautiful inside and out and I admired her artistic talent. Recently we reconnected through her brother Billy's Facebook page and had a wonderful phone chat catching up on each other's lives. Heartfelt condolences to Nancy, Judy, Billy, and Linda's sons and grandchildren. Sibyl Hunt Hull St. Petersburg, FL
